

Two travel awards for Keerthiraju E Ravichandran

Keerthiraju E Ravichandran who is at the final stage of his PhD studies obtained two travel awards from Royal Microscopical Society (RMS) and Early career research award from the European Crystallography Association.

Keerthiraju received a travel award from RMS for presenting his work through a poster presentation in The EMBO workshop on Ubiquitin (Ub) and Ubiquitin-like (Ubl) proteins in health and disease that took place at Hotel Croatia Cavtat, Croatia between 09-13 September 2022. Keerthiraju have previously obtained similar award from RMS during 2016 and 2019 and states that he had 100 percent success rate while applying for the Royal Microscopical Society's travel bursary.

Keerthiraju also received a competitive and valuable Early career research award from the European Crystallography Association to present his work through an oral talk at the 24th Heart of Europe Bio-Crystallography meeting that took place at Lipno - Dolní Vltavice, Czech Republic between 22-24 September 2022.

Keerthiraju in the EMBO Ubiquitin Workshop in Croatia

Picture courtesy: Dominika Kwasna

Keerthiraju in the HEC-24 Meeting

Picture courtesy: HEC-24 Organiser